SEA NAREA

The coral workshop, a souvenir that will make this incredible trip last...

The protection of coral reefs and marine biodiversity is at the core of our concerns. And thanks to the help of "SeaNarea", we can raise awareness among our guests.

With this activity, coral will no longer hold any secrets for you! You will discover the basics of its feeding and reproduction methods, and become an actor of its conservation.

An interactive presentation will take place at the edge of the lagoon. You will then take your own coral cuttings that we will install together in the aquatic garden, which will be re-implanted on our reefs when they are mature.

A certificate of cutting will be sent to you with photos of your cuttings and a follow-up will be made so that you can see them grow. Once the cuttings are re-implanted on a reef, the GPS location of your cutting will be communicated to you!
